

Students can download Word for free from the following:

<https://www.cbe.ab.ca/programs/technology-for-learning/Documents/MicrosoftOffice365StudentHomeUse.pdf#search=office%20365>

MSWord is a handy thing to have for students to access some of your docs, and if a parent is asking, you can direct them to this link.

Additionally, an easy option any student can use that requires no installation is (great option for kids with tablets and other low powered devices – Word is available for these platforms but is not accessed in the same way as the tutorial linked above):

- Students can upload any word file to their Google Drive
- After double clicking the file in browser, they can select “Open with Google Docs”
 - This will work with most docx files unless they have some seriously funky formatting
